Field Mapping

The first, and most important step in the integration is mapping the fields between the applications. There are three basic ways that this can happen:

Client Mapping (3-5 hours):

Clarity will provide you access to an onboarding portal which includes a mapping spreadsheet. You can simply map the fields from each application that you want mapped to the other application, including any custom fields or entities that you've added or customized.

Client-led Demos (6-8 hours):

You can record (video) a run-through of each application, showcasing all of the fields and information that you want captured and sent to the other application. You create a demo of each application, Clarity will build out the mapping files from the recorded videos.

White Glove* (10-16 hours):

A Clarity business analyst will meet with you and help you walk through all the business processes and workflows, documenting the business automation and efficiencies, as well as the field mappings needed for the integration.

*White glove service may require some additional time above the included 20 hours.
